Questions

A1.1 Question 1: Under Scope of Services Item 6 & 7, it appears that you are asking for an organizational effectiveness study to be performed in addition to the strategic plan. This can be an expensive cost to your organization if done with expert analysis using library experts. It is possible that you may be only wishing to ensure the strategic vision is practical and achievable. Please clarify specific deliverables for item 6 & 7 so we can price our services appropriately.

Response: The Augusta County Library Board of Trustees is interested in developing a strategic plan that would enable ACL to more effectively serve all county residents and expand its impact on the broader community. However, ACL's organizational structure, finances and staffing levels do not currently allow for the development of a comprehensive strategic plan that accurately reflects community needs and identifies opportunities for expanding and improving services. ACL is not requesting the development and delivery of a comprehensive organizational effectiveness study. Specifically, in order to prepare for future growth in services, the trustees and staff are interested in a Strategic Plan that identifies current needs and opportunities for expansion, is financially feasible and can promote future long-term growth, taking into consideration ACL's limited resources as well as a nascent ACL Foundation.

A1.2 Question 2: Mitchen has proprietary methods that build strong stakeholder ownership and engagement. These methods require a strong partnership between the client leadership and Mitchen. How much time will Library board and employees be contributing to the effort.

A1.3 Question 3: Since our 30 year developed processes have been proven to be more effective that traditional strategic models like SWOT, what assurances do we have that the bid process will not publicly share our approach?

A1.4 Question 4: We will note, this approach.. not allowing us to have private conversations where we can lay out our approach and discuss more in depth what you may or may not see as beneficial in your culture and political climate makes this a horrible way for us to share our services. Strategic positioning and the work we do is very complex and is not served by this method of vetting vendors. We acknowledge the need to ensure fairness, but this process actually penalizes those of us who do this type of work at a much higher and effective rate of success. I urge you to allow us to have a short 15 minute conversation where by we can see if we are a good fit for your needs. If not a private call, then a public call in where we can ask real questions and follow up with more detailed discussions.

Response: Per page 5 of the RFP # 73010-19-01, Number 3. Oral Presentations- Offerors who submit a proposal may be required to give an oral presentation. This gives the opportunity to present your proposal. We do not have private phone calls to further discuss the RFP, as the County of Augusta follows the Virginia Public Procurement Act. Please submit a proposal as as best as you understand. Also, please familiarize yourself with the below code from VPPA on the declaration of intent.

§ 2.2-4300. Short title; purpose; declaration of intent.

A. This chapter may be cited as the Virginia Public Procurement Act.

B. The purpose of this chapter is to enunciate the public policies pertaining to governmental procurement from nongovernmental sources, to include governmental procurement that may or may not result in monetary consideration for either party. This chapter shall apply whether the consideration is monetary or nonmonetary and regardless of whether the public body, the contractor, or some third party is providing the consideration.

C. To the end that public bodies in the Commonwealth obtain high quality goods and services at reasonable cost, that all procurement procedures be conducted in a fair and impartial manner with avoidance of any impropriety or appearance of impropriety, that all qualified vendors have access to public business and that no offeror be arbitrarily or capriciously excluded, it is the intent of the General Assembly that competition be sought to the maximum feasible degree, that procurement procedures involve openness and administrative efficiency, that individual public bodies enjoy broad flexibility in fashioning details of such competition, that the rules governing contract awards be made clear in advance of the competition, that specifications reflect the procurement needs of the purchasing body rather than being drawn to favor a particular vendor, and that the purchaser and vendor freely exchange information concerning what is sought to be procured and what is offered. Public bodies may consider best value concepts when procuring goods and nonprofessional services, but not construction or professional services. The criteria, factors, and basis for consideration of best value and the process for the consideration of best value shall be as stated in the procurement solicitation.
